Meet Spike!

Meet Spike!

Spike is actually not a Pound Puppy, but a vintage Pooch Patrol! He protects the pound puppies though, and is made by the same company that produced the vintage Pound Puppies so he can join us.

Spike came all the way from Britain, and I even have his original box! He was a present I received for my 13th birthday! I love my little British boi ❤

(sorry about my sleeve in this pic □□)

(angry boi! When you flip Spike's lips up and fold his eyebrows down he becomes ready to attack! □□)

(his box! my apologizes about the potato lighting, I promise the room was not lit with a potato)
