notice anything different? □□

I changed up both my operator and drifter!

The difference? Both my operator and drifter now have heterochromia - they each have a pink and brown eye. The difference between the two of them is my drifter's right eye is pink, while my operator's left eye is pink.

I guess it's kind of weird the color pattern is in reverse for them, but If you think about it's not that strange since drifter is not a older operator but instead the operator in another timeline.
