

Isaac Newton??? ?

I drew Isaac Newton...

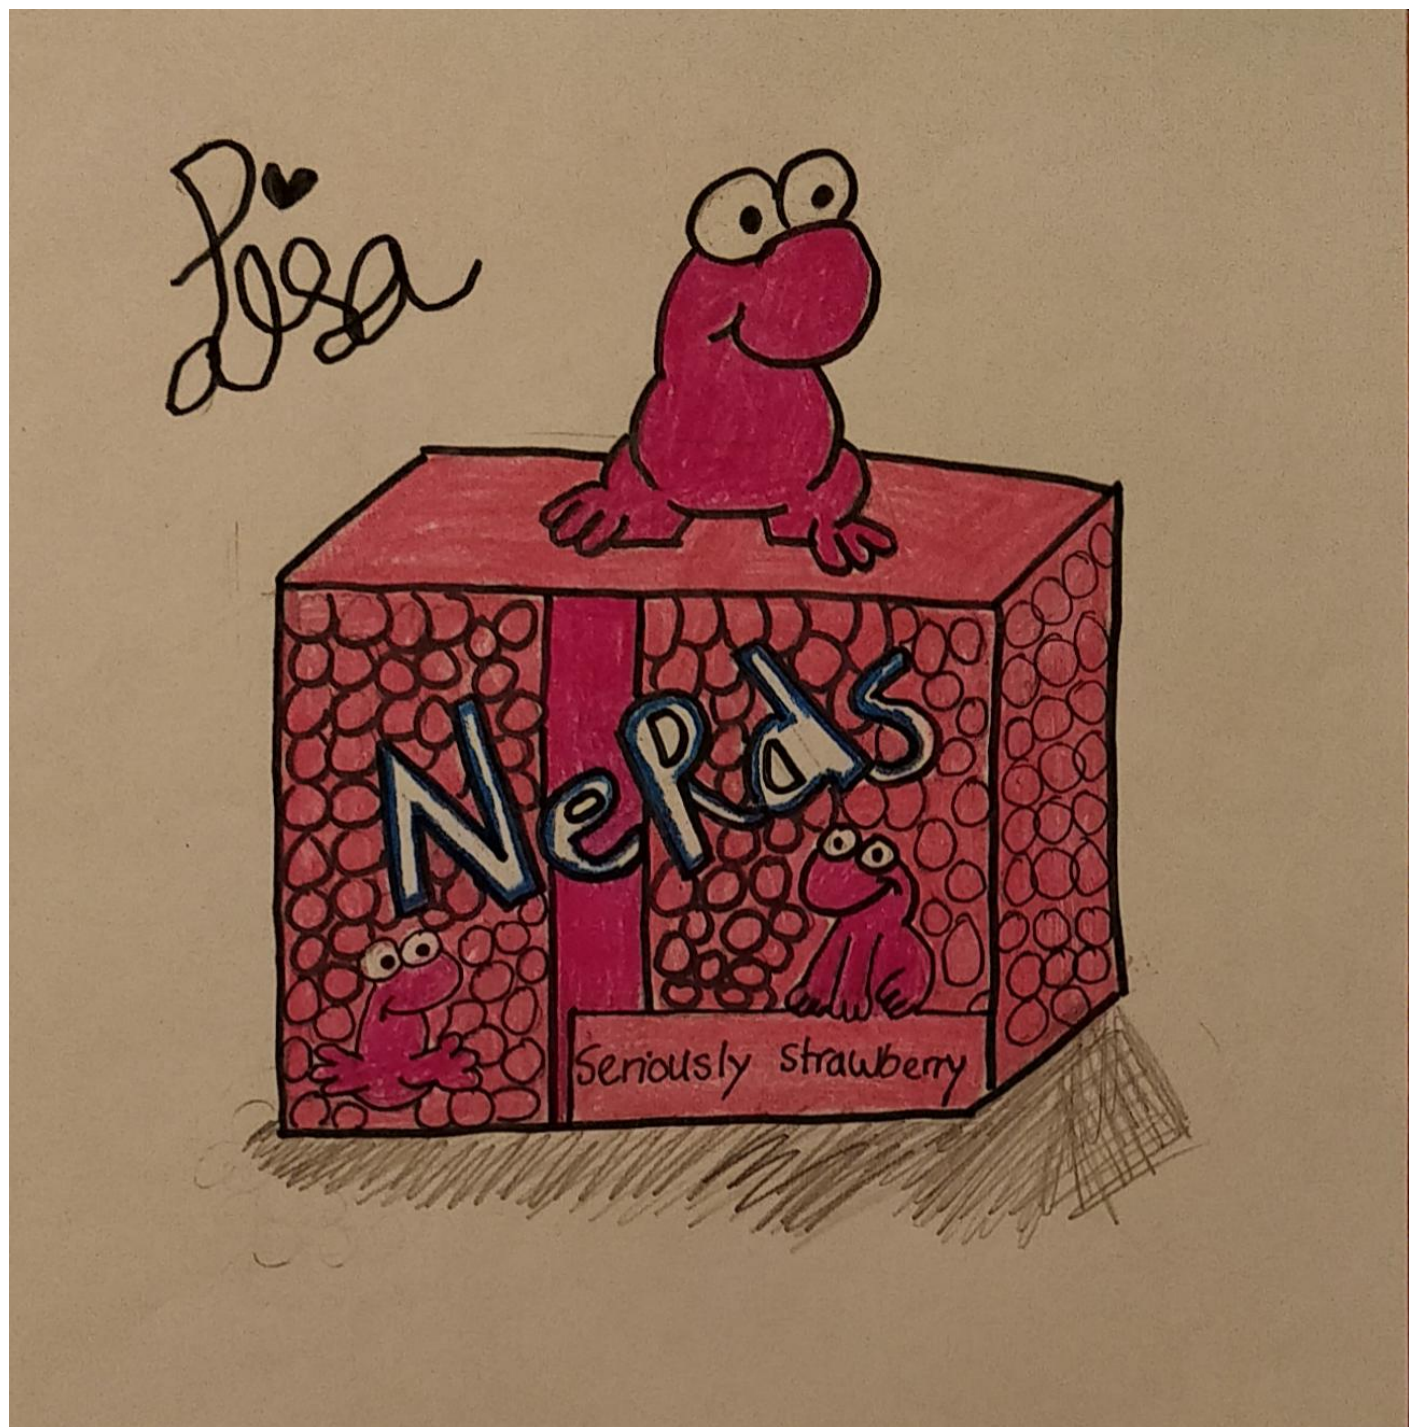

Well, not really by choice. I did it for a school science project ☐

NERDDDDDDDS! (as in the candy...)

I drew Nerds! (as in the candy)

This was yet again something for school....

a dog drawing!

I drew a dog drawing! ☐☐

I don't have much to say about this one...

Woof and Quack! ??

I would like you all to meet Woof and Quack...

Woof is a dog in a duck suit, while Quack is a duck in a dog suit.

I think they're really cute ♥ flower doge! ?

I made this dog surround by flowers for my middle school art class!

The project was to create a piece with a focal point, so of course I had the urge to draw a dog hehe random elf lady...

I wanted to branch out, so I practiced my side angles...

As you can see, I still need improvement ☹️ I'll get there someday!

alien puppies! ??

they're a bunch of alien doggers!

colorful doge!

Did this for my middle school art class! - we had to draw a animal, and create zen tangles inside it.

So I drew a dog and painted it in neon colors! ♥

It's currently hung up in the entrance of my school along with the art of other students! ☐

India Ink Still Life!

In my art class, we were tasked to draw still life in front of us with India ink!

I think they look ok, still life isn't really my thing but-

The second one was displayed on the board in the art room...

I feel accomplished ☐☐

Unity Art Project!

I know I write a about my art projects frequently in this section...

BUT - In my art class, we where given a paper mask and canvas, and had to put them together.

This is what I came up with.

sgraffito thingy...

I did a sgraffito letter "L" on scratch board art paper stuff for my art class

I'm proud of it because I free handed the ENTIRE thing.

art submission thing?

Okay - this piece/s is/are pretty important

Next year I go into high school, and at the school I will be attending there is a art program, and this piece/s was my application/audition

The program is pretty special, since only around 25 kids get picked

And I was one of them... ☐☐

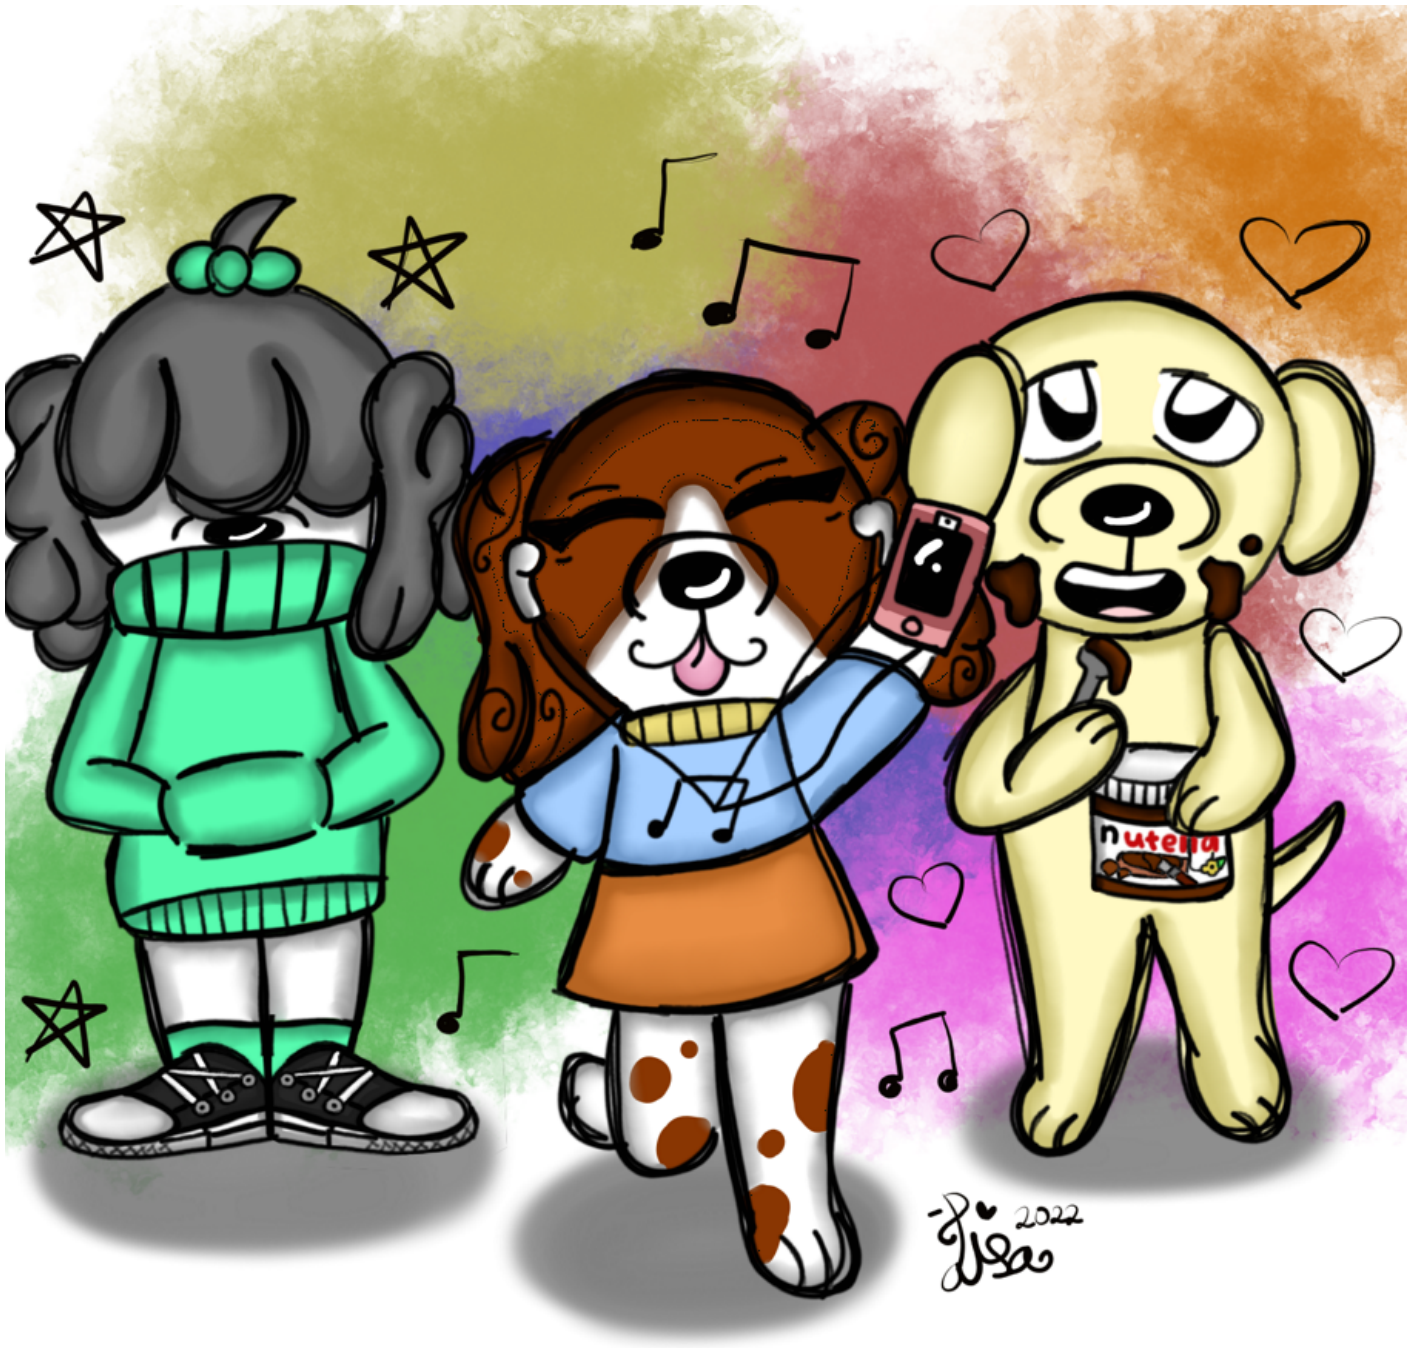

Basically, the application was three steps:

- 1) Take a picture of three still objects - something you can wear, something you can hear, and something you can eat
- 2) Draw those said items with pencil
- 3) Use those items to create a imaginative piece

Here were my submissions....

A holiday card! ?

Here's a holiday card I had to make in my art class, that was a submission for a contest!

I ended up winning the contest!! my design is going to be used on an actual holiday card I'm so excited!!

Front of the card: (I think only this part is going to be used)
