art submission thing?

Okay - this piece/s is/are pretty important

Next year I go into high school, and at the school I will be attending there is a art program, and this piece/s was my application/audition

The program is pretty special, since only around 25 kids get picked

And I was one of them... □□

Basically, the application was three steps:

1) Take a picture of three still objects - something you can wear, something you can hear, and something you can eat

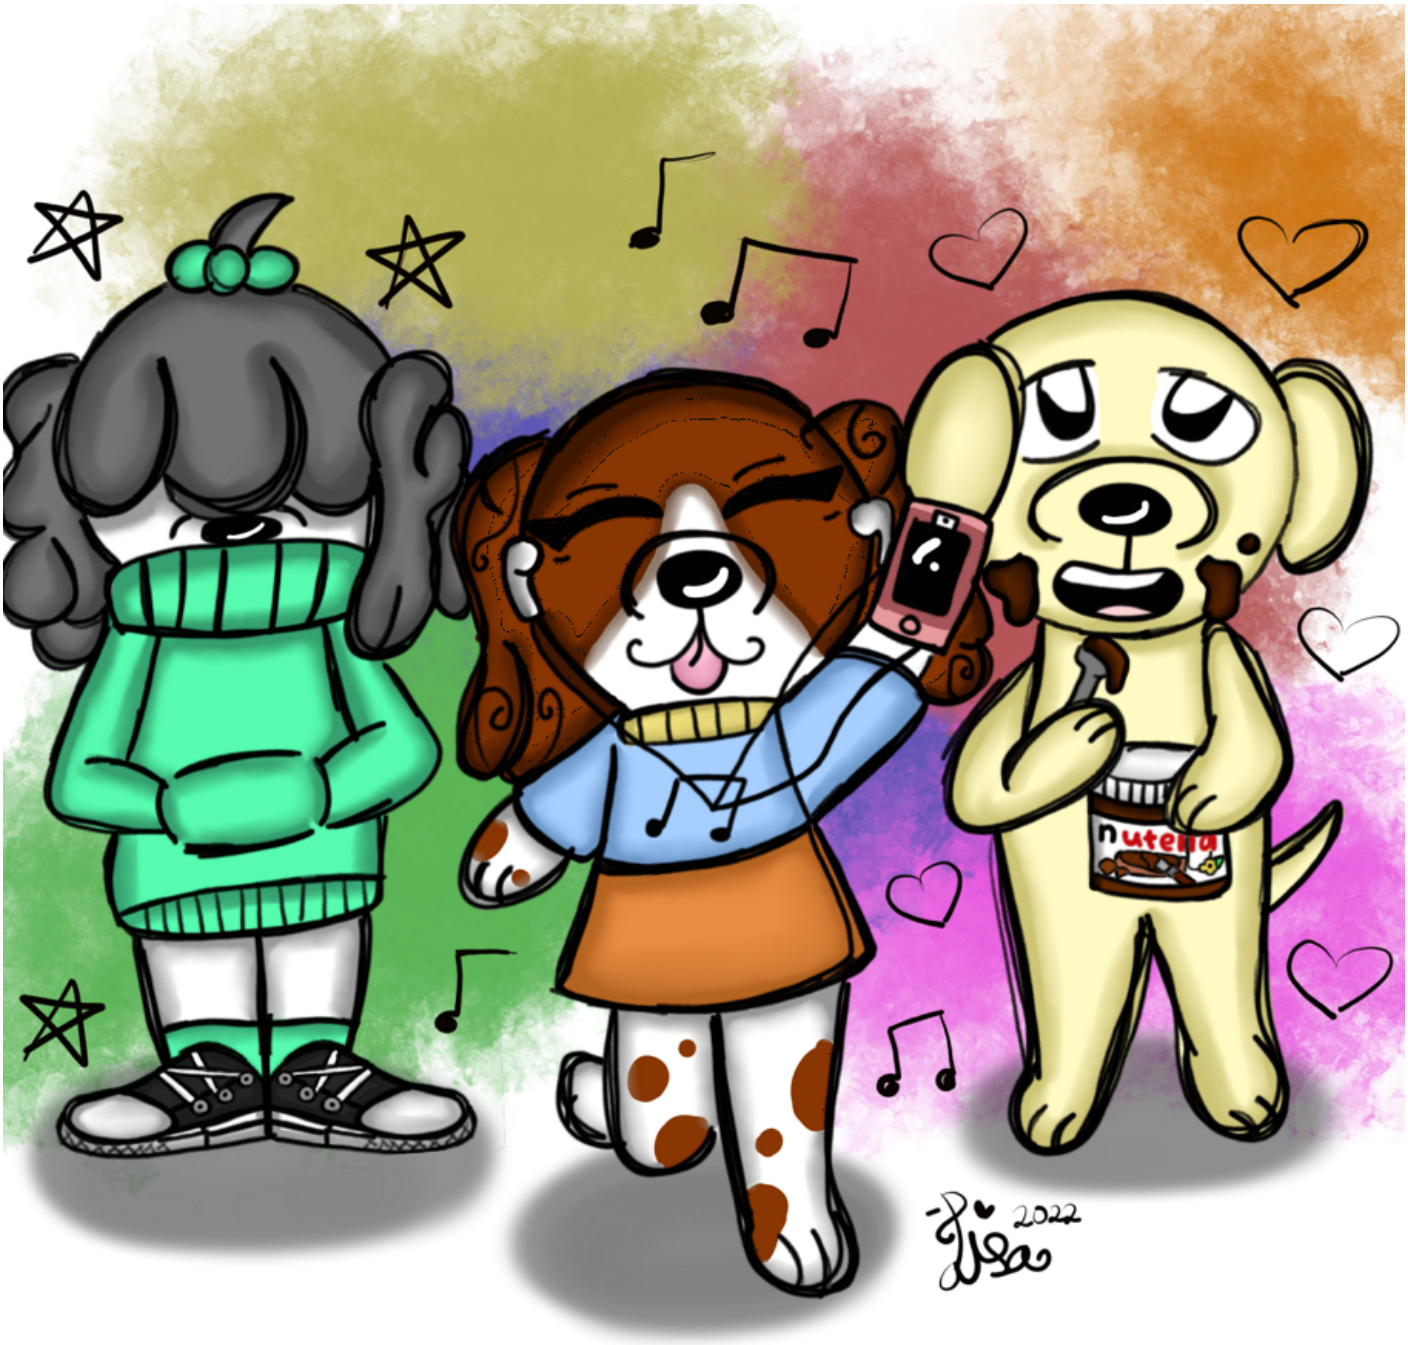

2) Draw those said items with pencil

3) Use those items to create a imaginative piece

Here were my submissions....
