

my portrait got a glow up! ?

I was digging through a bunch of old art projects I did in elementary school and found this one...

It is a self-portrait I did in 3rd grade!

I then decided to compare it to a newer portrait I did for my discord/website profile pic.

I find it funny that some things changed and some didn't. Even if I'm still not the greatest artist, I think its safe to say my skills have improved. It is also safe to say 3rd grade vs 8th grade Lisa still have a lot in common. We both have a necklace of sorts, pink background, and something dog related ☐
