The Evolution of my DOS2 Character!

In DOS2 (aka Divinity Original Sin 2), I created a character named Lisa (no she's not me we just share a name).

I have a bunch of different drawings of her...

Let's compare/contrast them!

This was the first drawing I made of her □□. The design is cute, but the execution from the line art to that weird hand and the lack of shading is bleh.

This one is basically the same except the hand improved and the outfit changed. I ended up liking this look better, and you will notice how I continue to draw this look, and notice minor changes with it.

Lisa

Random drawing I did of her in my sketchbook. It's definitely getting better and I added the staff back in there (I always draw her with a staff but in game she uses a bow □□)

Group photo! Personally, out of all the modifications to her outfit this one is my favorite!

Most recent drawing I did of her!
